Good morning, Michele!

We're a little over two weeks away from our September 24th excursion to Carbondale!

Steamtown will be issuing a press release and social media announcement next week that we plan to run the BLW #26 steam engine for this trip. In our early discussions, it was mentioned that Carbondale would be having an Autumn Marketplace on September 24th. Is there a website with information about what our visitors could expect at this marketplace? Or, is there a map available to present to passengers on the train so they know where to go upon arrival?

We currently have 40 passengers signed up for the excursion, and expect more as the date gets closer. We find the majority of reservations are taking place within 48 hours of the trip once folks have an idea of weather. Passengers will have approximately a 2-hour layover to spend in Carbondale.

At present, our trainmaster has identified the following itinerary for the trip:

- 9:30am - depart Steamtown NHS
- 11:15am - approximate arrival at Carbondale Depot
- 1:15pm - passengers board at Carbondale Depot
- 1:30pm - depart Carbondale Depot
- 3:30pm - approximate arrival at Steamtown NHS

Please let me know if there is any information you require from Steamtown at this time. Thank you and we look forward to the Carbondale trip in a couple weeks!
